Josephine Meckseper Returns to Blaffer on Nov. 12 for Artist’s Talk, Video Screening

HOUSTON – On Thursday, Nov. 12, at 6:30 p.m., Josephine Meckseper will screen a selection of her videos at Blaffer Gallery, the Art Museum of the University of Houston. Following the screening, the artist will speak about her works during an informal question and answer session moderated by Rachel Hooper, Blaffer’s associate curator. Meckseper has her first Texas solo exhibition at Blaffer Gallery, which features sculptures, installations, and a video, 0% Down—works that examine the conflicting interests of the mass media, politicians, and the oil and auto industries as played out in the Iraq War. The Artist’s Talk and Video Screening is free to the public, and will begin with a light reception featuring cheese and wine. For more information about the exhibition Josephine Meckseper at Blaffer Gallery, visit www.blaffergallery.org.
